POWER PLANTS
CONSOLIDATE11 Companies in Heart of Coal Industry Plan Tenu-
dous Project

New York, Mar. 21.—A long stride toward the nation-embracing super-power electric system advocated by Secretary Hoover has been taken by 11 companies serving Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland, in the formation of an operating coal field super-power group.

Representing an invested capital of $114,000,000 and producing 2,000,000 horsepower for industrial and domestic use in the heart of the coal and steel industries, the mutual combination, while retaining the independence of its members, plans to furnish more power, ultimately reduce the price at which power can be sold, and therefore increase the demand which will have a tendency to further decrease the cost.

In announcing formation of the coal field super-power group, officials of the American Waterworks and Electric company, a member of the system, predicted they would be linked within a year with the group system of Niagara Falls and New England, the southern super-power system and the already linked stations at the Chicago district.

Penn State Lads Wrestlers.

New Haven, Conn., Mar. 21.—In the elimination bouts of the inter-collegiate wrestling tournament held at Yale gymnasium this afternoon, Penn State led by placing seven in the semi-finals or one in each of the seven scheduled bouts. Lehigh and Yale each placed five men, Cornell placed four, Columbia three, and Pennsylvania and Princeton one each.

The first explosion was believed to have been caused by the ignition of gasoline on the driveway. The second was in a gasoline tank in the basement and came as firemen were leaving the building after they thought the fire caused by the first blast had been extinguished.

First Lieutenant John Scanlon and Alexander Stepton and five of their men were knocked to the floor, their uniforms masses of flames. The seven firemen were dragged to the street and rushed to a hospital a block away.

ELMIRA ELIMINATES DELHI

Eliminates Delaware Academy at Norwich, 24 to 12, in State Champsiponship Elimination Contest.

Delaware Academy of Delhi, winner over Oneonta in a semi-final game for the state championship, was eliminated from the race at Norwich last evening when Elmira Free Academy, conquerors of Elmira Heights in the Southern Tier semi-finals, trounced the Delhi lads by a 26 to 12 score. Elmira took the lead early in the contest and won with ease, always displaying all-around playing ability far superior to that of their opponents. Delhi fought hard but was completely outclassed.

R. DeFilippo, Elmira center, played a whirlwind game and helped greatly in his team's victory. His foot work was superb and his shooting eye uncannily accurate, as six field baskets and five shots from the foul line attest.

The game, which was played in the Norwich High school gymnasium, was witnessed by over 1,100 persons, including cheering sections of 200 from Delhi and 60 from Elmira.

The score follows:

Elmira Free Academy (24)—

JOHN E. WILCOX RESIGNS

Has Been Instructor in Agricultural Department of Worcester High School for Several Years—New Millinery Shop to Open.

Worcester, Mar. 21. — Much regret is felt not only among the scholars but also among the town people, at the resignation of John E. Wilcox, for the past several years instructor of the agricultural department in our High school. Mr. Wilcox has been elected to principalship and teacher of agriculture in the West High school. Mr. Wilcox is a capable and thorough instructor and for the last three or four years has been at the head of the athletic association of the school and has been beloved popular with the members of that association.

Church Notes.

Regular morning service at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches Sunday, with preaching by the pastor.

Rev. S. B. Beldom of Franklin will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church in the morning and will also preach at the union services held at that church in the evening.

Mass at St. Joseph's church at 11 a.m. Sunday. Rev. E. T. Hollis, pastor.

Open Millinery Shop.

Mrs. Porter Dunham will open a millinery shop in the Henderson block tomorrow, with an up-to-date line of spring millinery.

March Meeting of D. A. R.

The March meeting of the Iroquois chapter, D. A. R., was held at the chapter house Wednesday afternoon.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Best Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, diffused light, even before the oil is ignited, is now on the market. It is government and 30 leading universities and found to be superior to 20 or thirty oil lamps. It burns without odors, smoke or noise—no greasing up, is simple, safe, and reliable. Price, $1.50, air and 92% carbon dioxide (over all).

The inventor, R. V. Johnson, 66 N. Broad street, Philadelphia, is offering to lend a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give an extra lamp to the first customer who will send him a return air. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without expense of money make $2000 to $3000 per Rev. J. Gwynne Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church and one or two friends of Mrs. Foster. The dinner was under the supervision of three accomplished teachers, Mrs. Cecil Starnes, Miss Sue Collier and Miss Eva Coulter and it was most appetizing.

The after-dinner speeches of the young students were most creditable being well prepared and equally well delivered. All of them opened with one or two jokes that were fitting and then spoke in more serious vein. Earl Palmer was toastmaster and he presented the speakers in a happy manner. The toast list follows:

"Our Club and its Members," Marion Flinck.

"Our Ideas," Arthur Sommer.

"The Qualities That Win," Everett Ashe.

"The Goal Toward Which We Tend," Monte Cose, Jr.

"Success or Failure, Which Shall It Be?" Samuel Foster.

Following the responses by members, Rev. Mr. Brown addressed the diners, commanding their interest and efforts and assuring them that success will attend honest, earnest effort. Radio music was provided during the dinner.

Death of Mrs. Marshall Smith.

Mrs. Marshall Smith died at the family home here this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. Upon returning from work Thursday afternoon at 6 o'clock Mr. Smith found her apparently unconscious and very ill. Dr. Allen, who was called, pronounced it a case of acute uremic poisoning. She failed to respond to treatment and passed away this afternoon.

Her obsequies will be held from St. Ambrose Catholic church here Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father Casey of Sidney will officiate. The body will be taken to Troy and cremated, the disposition of the ashes not being announced.

Methodists Enjoy Sleighbroide.

There were about 40 couples present at the subscription dance held at the Grange hall last night. The music, which was furnished by Lynn Smith's orchestra of Oneonta, was especially fine and enjoyed by all.

Methodists Enjoy Sleighbroide.

Two large sleigh loads went to Decatur Wednesday evening to attend a supper held in the Methodist church at that place.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Nichols returned Wednesday from Jefferson, where they were called by the serious illness of the former's grandmother—George L. Wihans of Oneonta was a guest Thursday at the home of his son, Earl.—Rev. C. L. Herrick of Brahma's Corners, former pastor of the Baptist church in this village, is the guest of friends in town.—Frank Robbins, a former resident of this village, but who has been residing in Virginia for the past year, is spending a few days in town.

Among the Sick.

The many friends of Mrs. Earl Monk, who on Saturday last underwent an operation at the Fox Memorial hospital, and who since that time has been in a critical condition, will be pleased to know that she is improving.

Mrs. James Fisher has been seriously ill the past week, following a severe heart attack.

C. M. Clark is confined to his home on Main street by illness.

FRUIT-TREATMENT IS WONDERFUL

Cure and Indigestion Yield to "Fruit-a-tives"

From all over this section, comes word of the success of the Fruit Treatment in overcoming stubborn, chronic diseases that ordinary remedies cannot help.

Mr. Byron Titchell of Stockton, N.Y. says: "For several years I suffered with chronic Indigestion, Constipation and Rheumatism. I tried many medicines; some gave much relief. Seeing the notices about the Fruit Treatment I gave 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial. From the very first, I noticed an improvement and today the Rheumatism and Indigestion are almost gone. The action on the bowels of your wonderful fruit medicine is natural".

"Fruit-a-tives" are the intensified juices of apples, oranges, prunes and figs, combined with tonics. 25c and 50c a box—at dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, N.Y.

FIGHT FIRE ON FARMS

The National Board of Fire Underwriters is compiling a record of fire losses on farm property in various states covering the period of 1918-1921. The total will run well toward $100,000,000.

The average farm house is not subjected to danger caused by fire in adjoining buildings as is the case with city buildings. On the other hand, there is little or no fire protection provided for farm dwelling or out-building.

Too many farmers fail to recognize the ever-present danger from fire. Farm buildings should be the most easily safeguarded against loss from various fires.

Chiefly responsible among the known causes of fires on farm property are lightning, defective chimneys and flues, stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, spontaneous combustion, matches, smoking and petroleum and kerosene products.

Every farmer knows that he can remove the lightning hazard by a very simple and inexpensive method of lightning rod equipment. Defective chimneys and flues are wholly within the control of the owner of the property. Proper repairing of stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipes is a matter of good housekeeping which it is almost criminal to neglect. Sparks on roads cannot be entirely eliminated but if the chimneys are tight and run to a proper height danger from this cause is reduced to a minimum. Fires caused by petroleum and its products can be wholly eliminated if proper care is maintained in using these articles and if they are kept in receptacles intended for the purpose. Spontaneous combustion usually results either from oily rags, paint or similar material left carelessly where last used or from explosions in barns due to improper ventilation. It is simple to avoid these hazards by the use of ordinary intelligence.

For every bit of farm property that is destroyed, the profits of some farmer are wiped out and the "problems of agriculture" are increased by just that much, for the farmer must secure new capital with which to replace property destroyed. This must all be charged up against the high cost of production on farms.

As to fatalities and maiminations due to fire on the farm, there are no available statistics but conservative opinion holds that of the 20,000 deaths and injuries by fire in the United States in 1923, a regrettable number occurred in rural districts.

To avoid the larger part of American's fire loss, whether it be in town or country, does not require any specialised knowledge but only the quality of ordinary carefulness and the exercise of common sense.

RADICAL UPHEAULT POLICIES

The people have a deep interest in well managed public utilities, because hundreds of thousands of consumers of light, heat, telephone, water and other forms of public service are stockholders in these utilities.

Public ownership or what may be termed political management of such properties has not proved a universal success, and thousands of mismanaged and unpredictable publicly-owned utility properties have gone back to private ownership.

Movements in states are precipitated from time to time for state-wide ownership of light and power plants, water powers and even telephone services, and even abolition of public service commissions, in the struggles for political mandates to get payroll domination.

With hundreds of thousands of utility employees under their control city politicians seek political power to get control of state government and even power over the national Congress. This is the real secret of attempted public ownership of interurban and steam railroads.

State and national regulation of public utilities is now amply provided and is giving fair satisfaction to stockholders and consumers, and there is no excuse for extending the grasp of state or city politicians to larger fields.

PEOPLE'S PARLIAMENT

The Star declines all responsibility in regard to the views of correspondents expressed in this column and will not be held as endorsing them because published here.

The Star declines to be responsible for the people's views in this column, as it is to be held when statements are made public.

The communication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer. If requested, there will not be published, however.

WHY WORRY ABOUT OTHERS?

Editor Star: I would like to ask D. W. Rees through the People's Parliament, when any milk company gives so much truth to the public about their business affairs as the Dairyman's League does in twelve months about the Dairyman's League Cooperative association.

Mr. Rees is not a member of the Dairyman's League Cooperative association, but prefers to tell his side as an individual. I have no quarrel with him on that point, but if he is perfectly satisfied with individual action then he has no need to worry about our Star.

Mr. Rees is dissatisfied with individual action, then the time is now to start our business himself and his wife, because there is no necessity for him to speak for the business his wife does not care to tell him. If he is not perfectly satisfied with individual action, then he has no need to worry about our Star.

THE GUIDE POST—

BY HENRY VANDYKE

REVOLUTION OR MORE RELIGION

Promoting good things of peace—

Acts 10:36.

Some people say that a revolution is coming in our own age and our own country.

It is possible.

There are signs of it.

There has been a tremendous increase of luxury among the rich in the present generation.

There has been an increase of suffering among the poor in certain sections of our country.

It may be that we are on the eve of a great overturning.

I do not know. I am not a prophet nor the son of a prophet.

But I know that there is one thing that can make a revolution needless, one thing that is infinitely better than any revolution, and that is a revival of religion—the religion that has already founded the hospital and the asylum and the free school, the religion that has broken the fetters of the slave and lifted womanhood out of bondage and degradation, and put the arm of its protection around the brotherhood and the innocence of childhood, the religion that proves no race by its works, and links the brotherhood of the nation with the brotherhood of man.

That religion is true Christianity.

DEATH OF AGED LADY.

Mrs. Melitta D. Gregg, Mother of Mrs. A. Hobbs, Passes.

Melitta D. Gregg, widow of the late Elbridge Langworth Gregg, died at her home with her daughter, Mrs. A. Hobbs, at 32 Elm street, at 11:45 a. m. yesterday, in the 88th year of her age. She suffered an attack of pneumonia about four months ago, and while she rallied from that disease, it reduced her strength and vitality, and marked the beginning of the end. The body will be taken to West Liberty, Iowa, where her early life was passed, where the funeral services will be held, and the interment made. It will be accompanied from Oneonta by her granddaughter, Mrs. Paul H. Welch, who will be joined at Chicago Sunday afternoon by Mrs. Hobbs and another daughter of the latter, Mrs. John A. Kline, of Grand Rapids, Mich., whom Mrs. Hobbs was visiting at the time of the death. Beside the daughter named, Mrs. Gregg leaves one son, George Gregg, of St. Louis, Mo., who will join the funeral party at West Liberty.

Mrs. Gregg had been a resident of Oneonta only about two years, coming here when her son-in-law became interested in the Oneonta Storage Corporation. She had been unable owing to advanced years to mingle greatly with the people of the city. But by all who had come to know her she was much esteemed. She was active mentally and only last fall exhibited at the Oneonta fair a hand-made quilt, the product of her own hands, what was admittedly in a class by itself.

During the active life of her husband they resided in Perry, Iowa, Iron River, Wisconsin, and Duluth, Minn. She was during these years actively identified with the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Welch leaves with the body.

Mrs. Welch leaves with the body this evening at 6:15 o'clock.

Endeavor's Play Success

The entertainment given by the Christian Endeavor society of the Main Street Baptist church Wednesday evening was a decided success, judging from the large number present. Each and every one of the amateur performers took his or her part in a pleasing manner. Much credit for this should be given Mr. Engler, who manipulated the machinery "behind the scenes" and to Mrs. Wildgrube, who had the rehearsals in charge. At a supper given to the players after the entertainment, Mrs. Wildgrube was presented with a jar of daffodils as a token of appreciation for her untiring efforts to make the play a success.

Birthday Surprise Party.

A surprise birthday party was given to Miss Margaret Powell, aged 16, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Kizzie Powell, 1635 Broadway street, on Tuesday evening. About 15 of the friends of the young miss gathered for the occasion and enjoyed several hours of games and music, followed by supper.

WOMAN'S ADVENTURE IN CONTINENTAL

"We had been, we had been, when I'm dead, it's a far, far dead." So do the girls of North Carolina sing with glee. Do they live, want, marry, die, proud of the $5 per capita native-honors of their state. They find that a big city is no place for them "who ain't went out much, not far."

So reports Freda Kennedy, who has known the Carolinas from the day she was born, "a long time ago," as she says, to the present "time of the days of women of Trinity college." Her letter carries its own charm:

"I do not know when I began to find my chief delight in the printed page. I can remember lying flat on the floor with my chin capped in my hands, poring over Longfellow's Hiawatha and Surry Faust. Robinson impartially before I was ten. I regard my heritage from my father as a precious gift, but it included so small amounts of dollars and cents that the education I was able to secure was pitifully different from what he had kindled in me a desire for. I was fortunate in my course at college to fall under the influence of at least one real scholar, who kept alive in me the sense of intellectual curiosity. At the age of eighteen I had my diploma and was ready to begin teaching. It was necessary that I at least relieve my mother of the expense of my own support, and I did so—on a salary of thirty dollars a month, fifteen of which I paid out for board."

"Probably to some people I seem a good example of a woman who has succeeded in life. I have not, really, in comparison with my own standards and dreams, achieved anything, and yet I concede that I would be most unscrupulous and ungrateful not to acknowledge my blessings; and I have many. I am tamed to rural life. I like to hear of setting hens and newly planted gardens, and to watch farmers' almanacs and see how well they hit the weather. I like to go to a military opening and sit down with the crowd and advise my friends about the hats they are trying on. I like to 'set a spell' with my friends. So, although I love New York and go whenever I can for a little while, I expect to live in a rural section, probably in a town of about twenty thousand people. I hope through a green old age!"

Plan London to Bombay 100-Hour Air Route

New York—Mail Gen. Sir William Besson Brancher, K. C. B., director of civil aviation of the British air ministry, says he is confident that the air route to India which has been planned by expert aviators is quite practicable, and he hopes in the near future to see airships make the trip from London to Bombay in 100 hours.

"I am confident of its success," Sir William continues. "At the present time it takes seventeen days by the quickest route—rail through Europe and steamer through the Suez canal. The proposed air route passes over Mesopotamia to Bagdad and from there to Bombay direct. If the United States also attempts a direct route to India, I predict that no more than 100 hours will be required for the flight from New York to Calcutta."

Planes for Every 1,000 Persons, Fokker Says

Cleveland, O.—There will be one airplane for every 1,000 people "in a very short time," and the airplane will be used as casually for intercity transportation as the automobile is for short trips within the city, Anthony H. G. Fokker, Dutch aviation expert, predicted before the Cleveland chamber of commerce.

Deciding that it planes are handled "by the right men" and are well made, commercial aviation is safe, Fokker said that the planes are available if suitable landing fields are provided. "A man, who is not interested in commercial aviation, should lead, I believe, of his great statement."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made New—Duke Well and Strong

R. Marshall, Conn.—"After a serious attack I used to think that I could not live, but I did, and my recovery, so rapid, was due to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The compound is a great tonic and it does not affect the system so much that I took it for a week and never bothered and never got sick again. I have just come from a long trip to a nice country and I am feeling strong and well again. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound night and day, while Duke Well seems to be in good health, and I am finding they are a great help for the better in me."—Mrs. Johnson, 39 Wadsworth Street, East Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a special medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Duke. Ask some of your neighbors and friends, for there are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HOSTILE PRANKS IN HOUSE ROUT BRIDE

Bed Covers Pulled Off Pair by Unseen Visitor.

Marion, Kan.—It may be a ghost that is pulling the covers off sleepers here these cold nights, and the people of Marion are very much astir about it.

Perhaps little attention would be paid to the reports that are so current as to what is taking place were it not for the fact that they come from a family of such high standing in the community as the Mehl family, who are early settlers in the county and who have accumulated fortunes until their land holdings include many acres of immense value.

Out on the lone Kansas prairie, four miles east of here, stands an old stone house built 40 years ago by Jeff Terry, an early settler. At that time the fine two-story structure was the pride of the community, but today it is perhaps the most talked of house in that part of the state.

It is said that the builder of this house, who lived there a number of years, accumulated a great deal of wealth. He was close in his dealings, and before his death left the county on account of heavy taxation. It is also rumored that a tragedy occurred near the home to no one day being apprehended. Through a very peculiar circumstance, the farm was sold and it is said that Terry realized but very little from the sale.

Bride Flees to Mother.
A few years ago the farm came into possession of the Mehl family. A year ago Jay Mehl, one of the younger boys of the Mehl family, was married to a prominent young woman of the county and this stone house became their home. They have lived there ever since. Mehl does now, but his bride has fled to the home of her mother—at least when it comes time to sleep.

All went well until a few months ago when strange sounds arose from the basement. This worried the Mehls and they took particular pains to see that all doors and windows were securely fastened before retiring. The strange sounds, although faint, as if footsteps in the basement, caused the young couple many sleepless nights. "We will cement the basement floor," young Mehl told his wife. This was done and it only made matters worse.

"We will move our bed to the second floor," said Mrs. Mehl. This was done and arrangements made to lock the door from the inside so that there was no possible chance of anyone entering. Yet, night after night, "the invisible something" would appear to climb the stairs and enter their room and pace the floor.

Struck on Head With Flea.
The climax came recently. After Mr. and Mrs. Mehl had retired late the ghostly footsteps seemed to ascend the stairs and approach the bedroom. Mehl said he was struck on the head with a flea.

Mehl awoke and dashed on the light, to confront some great giant of unusual strength, but nothing more than four white and a familiar coating were revealed. Nothing could be found. Mehl again retired. When comparative quietness was gained, the sense of sleep again was sought, but almost immediately the covers were pulled from the bed. Both Mehl and his wife are positive on this point. Mehl again awoke and turned on the light and replaced the covers. This violence was repeated at frequent intervals throughout the night, and there was no sleep in the household.

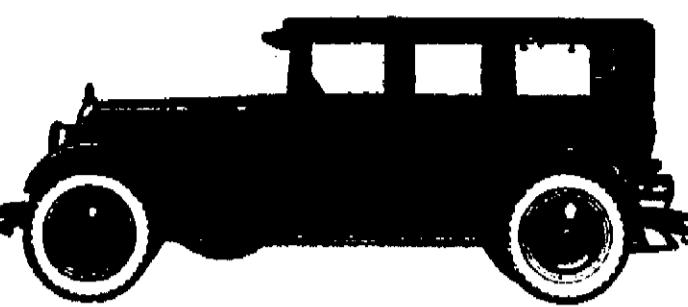

Frightened, but resolved to stay, Mrs. Mehl's family was called in to stay the next night. This stopped the quiet, peeping practice, but all heard odd rattling footsteps.

Mr. Mehl says he does not believe in spirits nor ghosts, and cannot account for the strange vibrations.
